

So you want to become a Director? Small College Case Study

Do you have desire to become a Recreation Director? Do you have the skills to meet the demands of the job? How are the demands different at a small institution? Come and explore what that role might look like and the challenges that you'll likely face working at a small institution. For anyone looking to learn what the next step in their career could become this is a great session for that.

- Lead Presenter: David Crawford, Saint Martin's University
- Terrace Room